Helping support the vital work of FQHC's

Federally-qualified health centers (FQHCs) are the first point of entry to the health care system for one in 12 people in America. The number of individuals depending on FQHCs is rising, while resources for these clinics are increasingly strained due to the spread of COVID-19. Learn how we're helping to support the vital work of these centers during the pandemic in a new co-authored blog post by Catherine Anderson, Senior Vice President of Policy & Strategy of UnitedHealthcare Community & State and Dr. Stephen Cha, Chief Medical Officer of UnitedHealthcare Community & State.
