Value of Partnerships with FQHCs

Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs) have long been the “boots on the ground” in their communities — acting as a cornerstone of care for Medicaid and underserved populations. In this short video, UnitedHealthcare Community & State leaders share the importance and value of partnering with FQHCs to develop new care models to best serve our members.

Investing in the whole health of our communities.

While access to quality health care is imperative to Medicaid beneficiaries, an array of factors outside of health care impact health outcomes. UnitedHealthcare is committed to social impact investing, and in this short video, two of our leaders explain what this means and offer examples of UnitedHealthcare investments in action.
