UnitedHealthcare is proud to serve more than 12,000 Dual Eligible Special Needs Plan (DSNP) enrollees in Washington D.C. We contract with more than 10,000 providers and 10 hospitals and employ a diverse workforce of more than 700 people with varied backgrounds and extensive practical experience.

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS) rated UnitedHealthcare® Dual Complete (PPO D-SNP) 4 out of 5 Stars in its annual Star Quality Ratings for 2021.*

To help beneficiaries, their families and caregivers compare plans, CMS calculates Star ratings from 1 to 5 (with 5 being the best) based on quality and performance. CMS rates 400 Medicare health and drug plans nationally. Scoring includes HEDIS, member surveys and other quality measures. The rating reflects how well we serve our enrollees.

* Medicare evaluates plans based on a 5-star rating system. Star Ratings are calculated each year and may change from one year to the next.

Offering more than health care, we meet the needs of individuals through services such as:

Personalized care management

Caregiver support

Partnerships with community-based organizations

Meeting Social Determinant of Health needs

We recognize that significant challenges exist in health care and are committed to helping our state partners meet those challenges.

We've identified key pillars that support the state's priorities, which we believe will have a big impact in helping move health care forward in the District. These pillars include:

- > Integrated, coordinated and supportive health care service delivery system
- > Culturally competent, person-centered care and advancing health equity
- > Innovative and high-quality health care
- > Strengthening a community of collaboration

Emphasizing a personalized care experience

There is no such thing as a broad approach when it comes to our enrollee health experiences. Personalizing how we engage with new enrollees is integral to the quality of care we provide. At UnitedHealthcare Community Plan of DC, all enrollees are assigned a care manager. This individual will assist the enrollee with their functional, mental health and service needs.

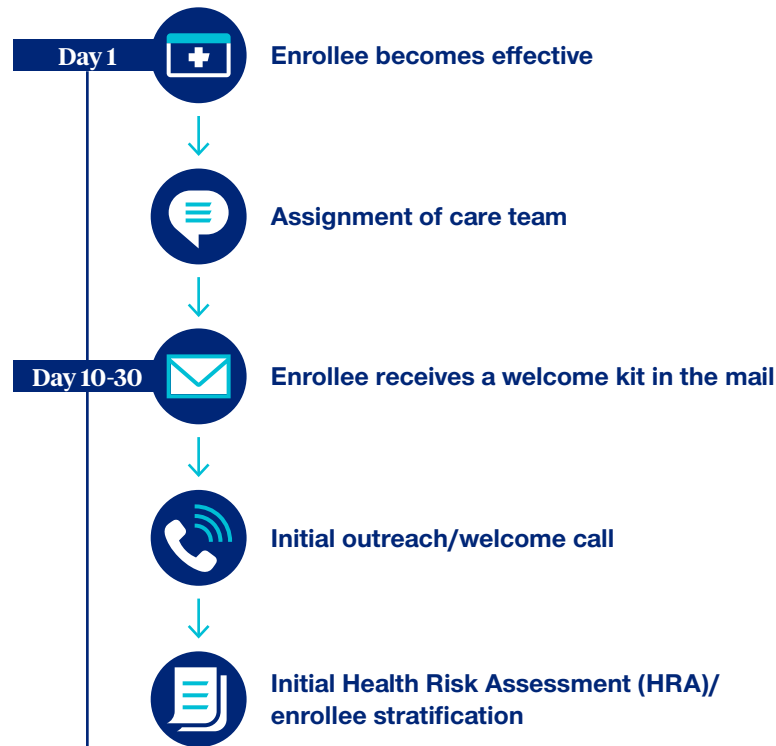

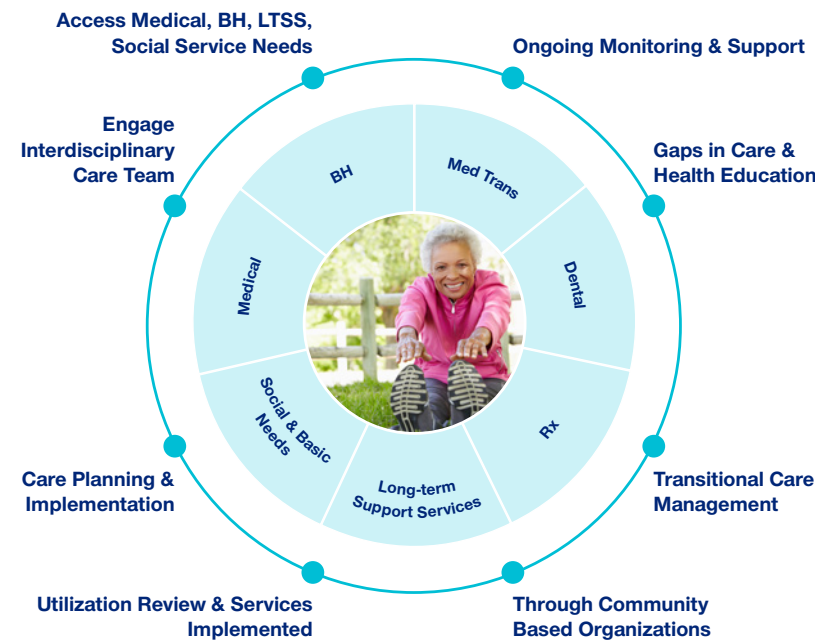

We ensure each enrollee is seen as an individual and engages in their customized care in a way that works best for them. For instance, we expanded our provider options to align with enrollee preference for language, gender and background to address the cultural and language expectations of our enrollees.

We innovate in areas most relevant to improving enrollees' quality of life. A good example is our work to expand community activities in response to addressing issues with enrollees experiencing loneliness and isolation.

We invest in systems integration and data-sharing technology to better support the enrollee experience. Our intent is to provide better data to key stakeholders and ensure that we include data from all sources to improve better health outcomes.

We also gather feedback from caregivers through focus groups and surveys and then act on this feedback.

A Person-centered Approach

Expanding value-based care and strong provider partnerships

At UnitedHealthcare Community Plan, we work for enhanced and deeper provider partnerships through value-based contracting, including HCBS providers. This enhancement to the clinical model allows us to have an enrollee-centered approach in caring for our enrollees while continuing to meet them where they are, resulting in effectively coordinated care.

Enrollees are our focus and services are provided in a variety of settings at differing levels of intensity. Our care management activities emphasize the provision of the right services, at the right time, in the right place, for the right reason and at the right cost.

This holistic approach allows our enrollees to receive an Individualized Care Plan that addresses all diagnoses and needs identified during the assessment process. Each enrollee is also assigned a care team who assists the enrollee with their unique needs. All enrollees with Long-Term Services and Supports (LTSS) needs are provided face-to-face visits. There is also an on-call system available to help enrollees address their needs and concerns 24/7.

Provider advocates are available to support Home and Community-Based Services (HCBS) through claims processing. They have virtual engagements to share information on new policies and protocols and to discuss any issues. Our Practice Performance Managers (PPM's) also help providers address open gaps in care for better patient care and improved quality.

Through these various supports and processes, we're able to help reduce administrative burdens for high-performing providers.

As we continue to strengthen our provider relationships and move toward paying providers based on the quality rather than the quantity of care, we can continue to help improve the health of Washington, D.C.
